SoCalREN Program Spotlight

Pathway to Zero

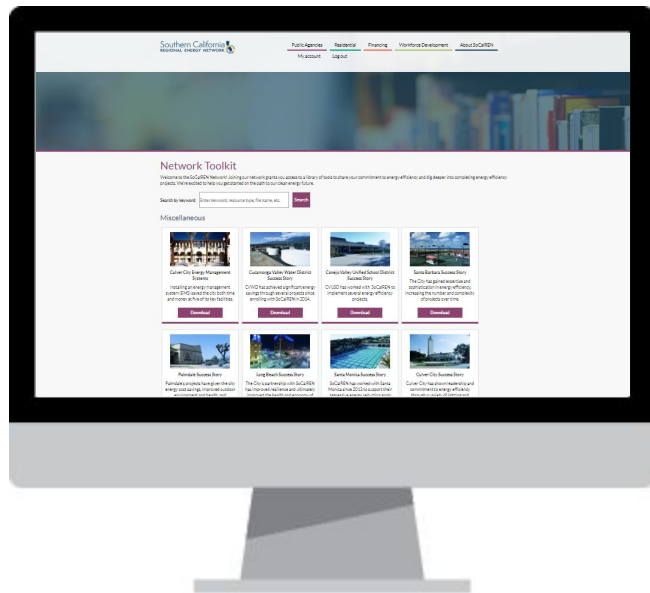

The Pathway to Zero Program maximizes energy efficiency opportunities and drives the integration of Distributed Energy Resources (DERs) for agencies serving disadvantaged communities

Benefits of Pathway to Zero

- Enhanced benchmarking and portfolio analysis
- Objective third-party guidance for project planning and implementation
- Energy and financial assessments for both energy efficiency and DER opportunities like solar water heating, demand response, and photovoltaic and battery storage systems
- Establishes a foundation for Zero Net Energy communities

SoCalREN Public Agency Programs
Enrollment Form

socalren.org

This enrollment form is non-binding, however, program services cannot be initiated until signed.
Enrollment in SoCalREN Public Agency Programs becomes effective as of the date the enrollment form is signed and returned.

Enrollment in SoCalREN means your Agency:

- Considers implementing the recommended energy-saving strategies that are economically and operationally feasible.
- Provides access to facilities, operational details and utility data in a timely manner as needed to facilitate energy audits and development of energy retrofit projects.
- Authorizes The Energy Coalition, as the implementer of the SoCalREN Public Agency Programs, to provide energy benchmarking services through Energy Star Portfolio Manager (ESPM).
- Completes authorization forms to release utility customer information related to energy and project data to the implementer of SoCalREN Public Agency Programs (required for utility incentive and financing application submission).
- Has access to a network of public agency peers where resources and best practices are shared broadly via workshops, conference forums, the SoCalREN website and more. This involves listing agency participation in informational materials and receiving email resources from SoCalREN's mailing list.
- Receives individualized support from a dedicated SoCalREN Project Manager and technical assistance team with broad expertise — all at no cost.

Enrollment

Please designate a primary contact (Energy Champion) below to facilitate the Public Agency's participation in SoCalREN who will commit sufficient time to support the successful delivery of SoCalREN's services.
